What Is Going On Tonight

O'ROURKE POSTMASTER.

Name Sent In by Congressman Mahan Monday, Verifying The Bulletin's Exclusive Announcement.

As predicted in The Bulletin some weeks ago, at which time the announcement created considerable comment, and called forth several denials, ment, and called forth several definits, and as again asserted in Monday's Bulletin, the name of John O'Rourke of this city was sent in for confirmation by Congressman Mahan Monday. Mr. O'Rourke was a dark horse from the start of the race, but those in the know have been certain all along that he would be the man, and the information which leaked out at the time of the first announcement was undoubt-

Last fall Mr. O'Rourke headed the Mahan forces in this city in the Bald-win-Mahan fight for the Windham delegation, and it is not surprising that Mr. Mahan should remember that fact when the opportunity presented itself.

Indicates Faulty Sewer Construction. Last week the attention of the street department was called to a break which was said to exist in the city's piping on Mansfield avenue. Superin-tendent Sumner with a force of men investigated, but could find no break. Further investigation seems to show that when the sewer was laid in Mansfield ayenue a culvert crossing the street just above where the water accumulates was taken up and that a break was left there when the work Oppose Saloon at Coventry Lake. Willimantic cottage owners at Coventry lake are considerably exercised over the application for a license made recently by E. J. Horrlgan, and several petitions have been started remonstrating against the granting of the license. The cottage owners object to the location, which is right at the end of the trolley line, and say that a sa-loon at that point would be a great thindrance to the quiet enjoyment of the lake, and would cause their prop-erty to deteriorate. The question is a burning one in South Coventry as well.

SEES RELIEF IN LORD'S RETURN. Bible Lecturer Tells Audience Christ's Second Coming Means Reform.

Christ's Second Coming: Why? How? and When? was the subject of the I, B, S. A. Bible lecture delivered in Sprague hall Sunday by O. Magnu-son of Middletown.

The speaker admitted that his subject was more or less unpopular or account of the foolish theories sometimes advanced. He claimed nevertheless, that the subject is an import-ant one for all Christian people to consider carefully, and that viewed in the sensible and reasonable light of the Scriptures it is a most interesting and nspiring study. The lecturer called attention to the fact that our Saviour had a definite purpose in coming to this earth at with friends in this city.

Dr. and Mrs. S S. Horwitz who have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hyman Israel of Natchaug street for the past second advent, he has an equally definite purpose, to liberate Adam and his posterity from that death.

Mon country for this earth at His first advent, namely, to pay the penalty for Adam's sin—not eternal life in torture, but death. At His second advent, He has an equally definite purpose, to liberate Adam and his posterity from that death.

Man cannot be liberated from the curse until the ransom price has been both secured and applied on his behalf. "The wages of sin is death." Jesus, therefore, became a man, and voluntarily gave up His human life. voluntarily gave up His human life. After receiving His reward of resurrection to a spiritual existence, He could have at once applied the merit of His human sacrifice on behalf of Adam, thus bringing Adam and his race from the tomb. But God had planned to further reward Jesus by giving him a bride, the church, the Lamb's wife. The gospel age was set a side for the selection of this church. Jesus, therefore, postponed the second feature of His redemptive work until a future time. It will not be accoma future time. It will not be accomplished till His second coming. Following this, Adam and all his race both the just and the unjust," will be awakened from the sleep of death and be fully liberated from the curse. We see, therefore, that without our Lord's second coming, our redemption would be incomplete and His death would avail mankind nothing.
